BIC is a special place to work, with a unique atmosphere of mutual respect and professional ambition that is characterized by ethics, responsibility, teamwork, simplicity, and ingenuity. In support of its growth and ongoing transformation, our client is looking for a talented Supply Chain Planning Manager for its Group Stationery Category.

Your Mission and Responsibilities

Located in Clichy (BIC headquarters), reporting to the Group Stationery Supply Chain Director, you will contribute to reduce the “lost revenue” at clients’ and customers’ level, establish close coordination between selling organization and manufacturing sites, optimize and secure the relevant S&OP processes and information flows to organize the supply in the most efficient way, as well as coordinate worldwide demand, production, and inventories for the products manufactured in the industrial sites within the scope (factories in Europe, North and Latin America, EMEA). Your upcoming responsibilities include, but are not limited to:

- Develop and run the S&OP process to guarantee the right balance between product availability, demand, production optimization and inventories
- Continuously gather worldwide demand as close to the field as possible and analyse its evolution and impact on production & capacities
- Monitor production capacities, identify potential bottlenecks, and propose actions
- Analyse inventory projection to meet the Group objectives and the Sales plan, establish inventory levels allowing to achieve the Category objectives, propose initiatives and lead cross-functional projects to reduce inventory
- Participate in the New Product Development projects to ensure that Supply Chain aspects are taken into account from the project start and to organize an efficient supply when product available
- Improve processes to make planning more responsive and efficient, develop solutions for process improvements, get the Category and Regional Senior Management buy in for implementation

Your Profile

You are an ambitious Supply Chain professional, with a minimum experience of 8-10 years in the Supply Chain in the area of FMCG, you’re looking for speeding up your career with a global market leader? We are eager to engage in conversation with you if you recognize your profile hereafter:

- Graduated from a business or engineering school, or equivalent degree, ideally a Master degree in Supply Chain, Operations, Manufacturing
- Successful experience with implementing and running an effective S&OP process
- Experience with using proprietary and standard IT software (e.g., IBM Cognos, MS Excel, JDE, JDA)
- Experience and ease with Finance and related elements
- Development and management of relationships in a multicultural environment
- Leadership and effective communication with people from different levels and backgrounds
- Analysis and solution orientation
- Ability to prioritize and work under pressure
- Fluency in both French and English is required
